

The background is a dark blue gradient. It features a series of concentric circles in a lighter blue shade, centered around the text. Overlaid on these circles is a pattern of small dots in various shades of blue and teal, creating a halftone or dot-matrix effect. The dots are arranged in vertical columns that slightly curve inward towards the center.

| Izumibashi Junmai Ginjo MegumiBlue Label, Kanagawa   720mlMade from the most superior rice for sake brewing, this light and dry sake is overlaid with some fruity impressions, with a touch of bitterness. An impressively calm and settled sake.                                                                                                                               | 78             | 388    |
| Taketsuru Junmai Ginjo,Hiroshima   720mlTaking a year to ferment, with a minimal filtration process, this sake has a complex, delicate flavour accompanied by a rich taste of umami.                                                                                                                                                                                            |                | 438    |
| Abe Kameji Junmai Daiginjo,Yamagata   500mlBeautifully light with a mellow aroma. Soft and smooth upon first sip, with a clean fullness at the back of the palate bolstered with acidity that creeps out in an elegant, peaceful pace.                                                                                                                                          |                | 568    |
| Hiokizakura Junmai Daiginjo Shizuku,Tottori   720ml“Best from the brewery.” Highly recommended by famed sake critic Hiroshi Uehara. This sake is produced via the older brewing method of using canvas bags which lends to a slower fermentation as fresh sake slowly drips from the bags. Only a few hundred bottles of this elegant and delicate sake are produced in a year. | 138            | 788    |
